

Regulatory Reporting

The Challenge

A large Energy Utility was in the process of introducing and rolling out their Smart Meter network. This involved significant changes to many of its operational systems, introducing multiple packaged systems for Meter Management, Meter Data Management, Customer Management and Billing.

As part of the program, the client was obliged to provide compliance reporting to the regulatory bodies.

One of the challenges they faced was to find the most appropriate solution to integrate the data required to provide accurate and timely regulatory and compliance reporting.

Our Solution

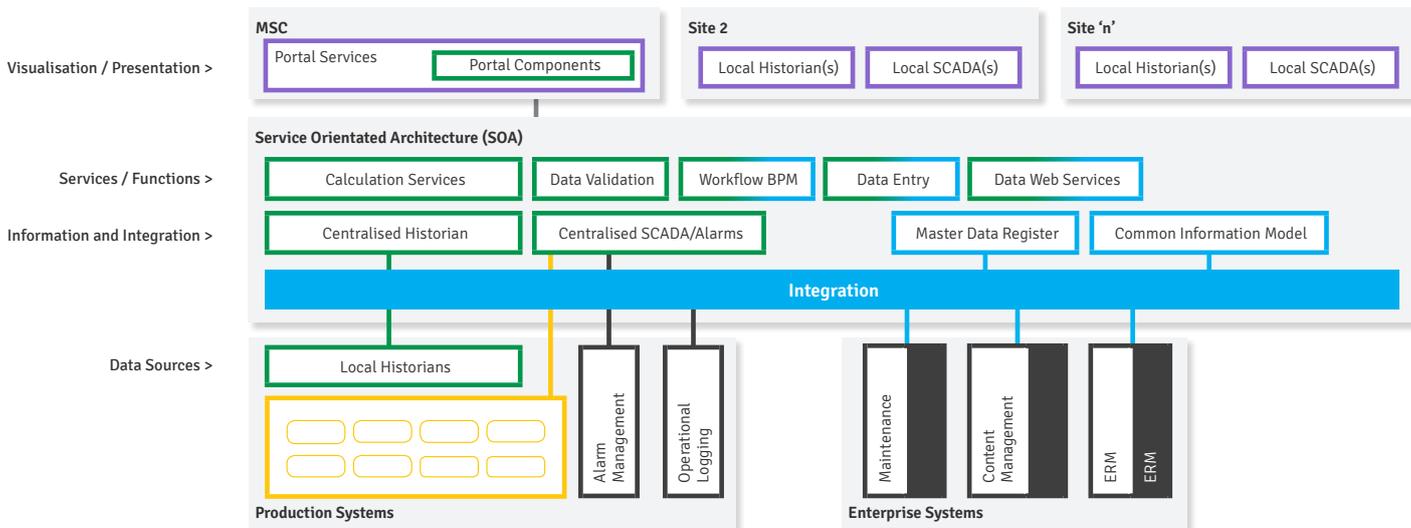

InfoCentric worked with the business and IT to create and subsequently implement a reporting strategy that integrated the data into an industry-based data model. This provides the business and the regulatory bodies with visibility of the rollout and the effectiveness of the Smart Meter network.

InfoCentric employed best practices and thought leadership in the Information Management domain underpinned by a team with trusted expertise and capabilities in not only technology but also the utilities industry.

The Benefits

The team provided a cost effective regulatory and compliance reporting solution that resulted increased business satisfaction and met the client's legal reporting obligations. This strategy was based on service-oriented architecture and incorporated the integration of numerous, disparate data sources and delivered data to various portals based on different business units legislation.
